Little Desne,

I'm so glad my 'itsy bitsy gift' helped create beautiful you. Your mother has given me the opportunity to watch you grow and I am so grateful for it. My hope is that this book introduces you to the wonderful story of how you came to be, and how much your parents loved you from the beginning. It is a privilege to be part of your family story.

All the best wishes, Rachel

Once upon a time there were two rabbits: Steve and Joy.

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a young rabbit girl with pink hair tied in a bow, sitting at a table covered with a light blue cloth. She is focused on painting a yellow Easter egg with blue and red floral patterns. On the table are various art supplies: a palette with yellow, red, and blue paint, a small jar of red paint, and a glass of water. The room is warm and inviting, with a wooden floor made of large, reddish-brown tiles. In the background, there is a wooden cabinet with a green cushioned seat, a vase of flowers, and a potted plant in a terracotta pot. The walls are decorated with a purple and white floral border. The overall style is soft and painterly, with a rich color palette.

They lived very happily
in their beautiful home.

They loved going to the park and
always saw lots of little bunnies everywhere, but they didn't have one.

“I really want us to have our own baby bunny. I can’t wait until we become a Mummy and Daddy,” said Joy.

“Yes so do I!” replied Steve.

“Let’s see...” he said,
“to make a
baby bunny
we need
a tiny itsy bitsy
seed from you and
a tiny itsy bitsy
seed from me.

Like this cookie:
two halves make one.”

But, Spring went by...

and Summer went by...

and Autumn went by...

and Winter went by...

and Steve
and Joy had still
not become
a Mummy
and a Daddy.

The doctor told Joy that she had no more itsy bitsy seeds left in her tummy to make a baby bunny .

She felt very sad.

One special sunny
day, a lady rabbit
knocked on
the door.

Her name was Rachel.

“Hello Joy,
I have a gift
of life for you.

I have a lot of
tiny itsy bitsy seeds
and I want
to give you one.

This is the other half
you need to have
your baby bunny,”
she said.

Joy treasured this
tiny itsy bitsy gift,
because she needed it
to have her baby bunny.

And then Steve said, “Look Joy, here I have
the other tiny itsy bitsy
half we need.

These two seeds make one,
like the cookie, remember?”

“Now, lets put
my tiny itsy bitsy seed
with your tiny itsy bitsy gift
together in your tummy
so our baby bunny
can grow,”
said Steve.

Soon Joy's
tummy started
to grow
and grow
and grow.

Steve would always
look after her.

Joy liked eating lots of delicious things so that their baby bunny that was growing in her tummy would grow very healthy.

They started
preparing their
baby bunny's
bedroom.

It was the
most beautiful
and loving room
you have ever seen.

Finally, Joy and Steve
became a Mummy and Daddy!

Baby bunny was born,
she was a beautiful bunny girl
and they called her
Desne.

Desne grew...
and grew...
and grew...

and they lived happily
ever after as a family.
